

Jeremi Suri

Department of History, University of Wisconsin
 5119 Humanities Building, 455 North Park Street
 Madison, WI 53706
 Telephone: (608) 263-1852
 Fax: (608) 263-5302
suri@wisc.edu
<http://jeremisuri.net/>

Current Position:

E. Gordon Fox Professor of History, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 2009 to present.
 Director, European Union Center of Excellence, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 2008 to present.
 Director, Grand Strategy Program, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 2009 to present.
 Senior Fellow, Center for World Affairs and the Global Economy (WAGE),
 University of Wisconsin-Madison, 2005 to present.

Previous Employment:

Professor of History, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 2007-2009.
 Associate Professor of History, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 2005-2007.
 Assistant Professor of History, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 2001-2005.

Education:

Yale University, Ph.D. in history, 2001.

Dissertation: "Convergent Responses to Disorder:

Cultural Revolution and Détente among the Great Powers during the 1960s."

Recipient of the John Addison Porter Prize for the best dissertation in the humanities.

Recipient of the Hans Gatzke Prize for the best dissertation in international history.

Ohio University, M.A. in history, 1996.

Completed M.A. thesis with distinction: "Cold War Legitimacy in Crisis: An International History of Détente."

Stanford University, A.B. in history with highest honors and university distinction, 1994.

Book Publications:

Henry Kissinger and the American Century

(Cambridge, Mass.: Belknap Press of Harvard University Press, 2007, paperback 2009).

See: <http://www.hup.harvard.edu/catalog/SURHEN.html>

Chinese Language Edition of Henry Kissinger and the American Century (Beijing: Commercial Press, 2009).

Selected as one of the Chicago Tribune's "Favorite Books of 2007."

The Global Revolutions of 1968 (New York: W.W. Norton, 2007).

<http://www.wnorton.com/college/titles/history/nc1968/>

Power and Protest: Global Revolution and the Rise of Détente

(Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard University Press, 2003, paperback 2005).

See: www.hup.harvard.edu/catalog/SURPOW.html

Arabic Language Edition of Power and Protest (Beirut: Al Hiwar Athaqafi, 2005).

Indian Edition of Power and Protest (New Delhi: Viva Books Private Limited, 2005).

Recipient of the 2003 Phi Alpha Theta Best First Book Award.

American Foreign Relations since 1898: A Documentary Reader
(Malden, Mass.: Wiley-Blackwell, forthcoming 2010).

Peer Reviewed Article Publications:

“Conflict and Cooperation in the Cold War: New Directions in Contemporary Historical Research,” edited and contributed to a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary History (forthcoming 2010).

“The Rise and Fall of an International Counterculture, 1960-1975,” American Historical Review 114 (February 2009), 45-68.

“Henry Kissinger, the American Dream, and the Jewish Immigrant Experience in the Cold War,” Diplomatic History 32 (November 2008), 719-47. Another version of this article appeared as “Henry Kissinger: The Inside-Outsider,” in Azure: Ideas for the Jewish Nation 33 (Summer 2008), 58-92.

“Détente and Human Rights: American and West European Perspectives on International Change,” Cold War History 8 (November 2008), 527-45.

“The Cold War, Decolonization, and Global Social Awakenings: Historical Intersections,” Cold War History 6 (August 2006), 353-63.

“The Promise and Failure of ‘Developed Socialism:’ The Soviet ‘Thaw’ and the Crucible of the Prague Spring, 1964-1972,” Contemporary European History 15 (May 2006), 133-58.

“The Cultural Contradictions of Cold War Education: The Case of West Berlin,” Cold War History 4 (April 2004), 1-20.

“The Madman Nuclear Alert: Secrecy, Signaling, and Safety in October 1969,” with Scott D. Sagan, International Security 27 (Spring 2003), 150-183.

“Explaining the End of the Cold War: A New Historical Consensus?,” Journal of Cold War Studies 4 (Fall 2002), 60-92.

“At the Crossroads of Diplomatic and Social History: The Nuclear Revolution, Dissent, and Détente,” with Andreas Wenger, Cold War History 1 (April 2001), 1-42.

“America’s Search for a Technological Solution to the Arms Race: The History of the Surprise Attack Conference of 1958 and a Challenge for ‘Eisenhower Revisionists,’” Diplomatic History 21 (Summer 1997), 417-51.

Articles and Book Chapters:

“The Cold War,” edited and contributed to a special issue of the Organization of American Historians, Magazine of History (forthcoming, Fall 2010).

“Henry Kissinger and the Geopolitics of Globalization,” in Niall Ferguson, Charles Maier, Erez Manela, and Daniel Sargent, eds., Shock of the Global: Détente and its Architects (Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard University Press, forthcoming 2010), 173-88.

“Ostpolitik as Domestic Containment: the Cultural Contradictions of the Cold War and the West German State Response,” in Belinda Davis, Martin Klimke, Carla MacDougall, and Wilfried Mausbach, eds., Changing the World, Changing Oneself: Politics, Protest, and Collective Identities in West Germany and the United States during the 1960s and 1970s (New York: Berghahn Books, forthcoming, 2010), 133-52.

“Counter-Cultures: The Rebellions Against the Cold War Order, 1965-1975,” in Melvyn P. Leffler and Odd Arne Westad, eds., The Cambridge History of the Cold War, Volume 2 (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2010), 460-81.

“Where are the Kissingers for the Twenty-First Century?” Global Brief Magazine (Winter 2010), 32-35.

“Vietnam: America’s Misguided War,” in Sarah Larsen and Jennifer M. Miller, eds., Wisconsin Vietnam War Stories (Madison, Wisc.: Wisconsin Historical Society Press, forthcoming 2010), approx 5 pages.

“Madison: The Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations’ Summer City of Fun,” Passport: The Newsletter of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations (forthcoming April 2010), approx 3 pages.

“Disarmament Attempts Past: Successes and Failures,” ejournal USA, U.S. Department of State Bureau of International Information Programs 15 (February 2010), 20-24.

“American Grand Strategy from the Cold War’s End to 9/11,” Orbis 53 (Fall 2009), 611-27.
Abridged version reprinted in Telegram, Temple University (forthcoming 2010), approx. 10 pages.

“The Limits of American Empire: Democracy and Militarism in the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries,” in Alfred W. McCoy and Francisco A. Scarano, eds., Colonial Crucible: Empire in the Making of the Modern American State (Madison: University of Wisconsin Press, 2009), 523-31.

“Transnational Influences on American Politics,” in Michael Kazin, Rebecca Edwards, and Adam Rothman eds., The Princeton Encyclopedia of American Political History (Princeton: Princeton University Press, forthcoming 2009), approx. 15 pages.

“William Appleman Williams, the Wisconsin School, and Midwestern Progressivism,” Passport: The Newsletter of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations 40 (September 2009), 32-33.

“Politics after the Fall,” The Berlin Wall: Twenty Years Later (Washington D.C.: U.S. Department of State Bureau of International Information Programs, 2009), 63-64. See www.america.gov/publications/books.html.

“Logiken der atomaren Abschreckung oder Politik mit der Bombe,” in Bernd Greiner, Christian Th. Müller, and Dierk Walter, eds., Krisen im Kalten Krieg (Hamburg: Hamburger Institut für Sozialforschung, 2008), 24-47.
English-language version published as “Nuclear Weapons and the Escalation of Global Conflict since 1945,” International Journal 63 (Autumn 2008), 1013-29.

“Henry Kissinger and American Grand Strategy,” in Fredrik Logevall and Andrew Preston, eds., Nixon in the World: American Foreign Relations, 1969-1977 (New York: Oxford University Press, 2008), 67-84.

“Détente and its Discontents,” in Bruce J. Schulman and Julian E. Zelizer, eds., Rightward Bound: Making America Conservative in the 1970s (Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard University Press, 2008), 227-45.

“American Perceptions of the Soviet Threat Before and During the Six Day War,” in Yaacov Ro’i and Boris Morozov, eds., The Soviet Union and the June 1967 Six Day War (Stanford: Stanford University Press, 2008), 102-21.

“Henry Kissinger and the Reconceptualization of European Security, 1969-1975,” in Andreas Wenger, Vojtech Mastny, and Christian Nuenlist, eds., Origins of the European Security System: The Helsinki Process Revisited, 1965-1975 (London: Routledge, 2008), 46-64.

“The Nukes of October,” Wired Magazine 16 (March 2008), 160-65.
Excerpt from this article published in El Mercurio newspaper in Chile (13 April 2008).

“Introduction” for Sarah Larsen and Jennifer M. Miller, eds., Wisconsin Korean War Stories: Veterans Tell Their Stories from the Forgotten War (Madison, Wisc.: Wisconsin Historical Society Press, 2008), xv-xvii.

“Henry Kissinger in Historical Context: War, Democracy, and Jewish Identity,” Passport: The Newsletter of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations 39 (September 2008), 4-9.

“The Final Crises: Conflict and Leadership at the End of the Cold War,” The New England Journal of History 64 (Fall 2007), 270-86.

“The Cultural Contradictions of Cold War Education: West Berlin and the Youth Revolt of the 1960s,” in Jeffrey A. Engel, ed., Local Consequences of the Global Cold War (Stanford: Stanford University Press, 2007), 57-76.

“The Normative Resilience of NATO: A Community of Shared Values Amid Public Discord,” in Andreas Wenger, Christian Nuenlist, and Anna Locher, eds., Transforming NATO in the Cold War: Challenges beyond Deterrence in the 1960s (London: Routledge, 2007), 15-30.

“The World the Superpowers Made,” History in Focus 10 (Spring 2006), <http://www.history.ac.uk/ihr/Focus/>.

“Lyndon Johnson and the Global Disruption of 1968,” in Mitchell B. Lerner, ed., Looking Back at LBJ: White House Politics in a New Light (Lawrence: University Press of Kansas, 2005), 53-77.

“Non-Governmental Organizations and Non-State Actors,” in Patrick Finney, ed., Palgrave Advances in International History (London: Palgrave Macmillan, 2005), 223-46.

“The New Age of Space Exploration,” Hoover Digest 2 (Spring 2004), 135-40.

“Confronting Anti-Americanism Abroad – and at Home,” Hoover Digest 1 (Winter 2004), 22-27.

“The Significance of the Wider World in American History,” Reviews in American History 31 (March 2003), 1-13.

“The Early Cold War,” in Robert D. Schulzinger, ed., A Companion to American Foreign Relations (Oxford: Blackwell Publishing, 2003), 215-229.

“Hamilton Fish Armstrong, the ‘American Establishment,’ and Cosmopolitan Nationalism,” Princeton University Library Chronicle 63 (Spring 2002), 438-65.

“American Attitudes Toward Revolution,” in Alexander DeConde, Richard Dean Burns, and Fredrik Logevall, eds., Encyclopedia of American Foreign Policy, second edition (New York: Charles Scribner’s Sons, 2002), 425-42.

“Rethinking Imperialism in a Comparative Context: Early Modern British and Russian Expansion in Asia,” Portuguese Studies 16 (2000), 218-39.

“The Nuclear Revolution, Social Dissent, and the Evolution of Détente: Patterns of Interaction, 1957-74,” with Andreas Wenger, Zürcher Beiträge 56 (Summer 2000), 1-68.

“Secret Diplomacy,” “Helsinki Accords,” “Imperialism,” “Monroe-Pinkney Treaty,” “Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty,” “Nuclear Test Ban Treaty,” and “Treaties with Foreign Nations,” in Stanley I. Kutler, ed., Dictionary of American History, third edition, 10 volumes (New York: Charles Scribner’s Sons, 2003), 3: 271; 4: 125, 242-46; 5: 447; 6: 138, 142-43; 8: 199-203.

Reviews:

Review of David Obey, Raising Hell for Justice: The Washington Battles of a Heartland Progressive in Wisconsin People and Ideas 56 (Winter 2010), 45-46.

Review of Rebecca M. Schreiber, Cold War Exiles in Mexico: U.S. Dissidents and the Culture of Critical Resistance in International History Review 32 (March 2010), 204-06.

“Twelve Months with Dr. K,” a review of recent books about Henry Kissinger, Times Literary Supplement (29 January 2010).

Review of Gordon Goldstein, Lessons in Disaster: McGeorge Bundy and the Path to War in Vietnam, posted on <http://firedoglake.com> (10 January 2010). I also led a two-hour live online discussion of the book and my review on 10 January 2010.

Review of Steven R. David, Catastrophic Consequences: Civil Wars and American Interests in Political Science Quarterly 124 (Fall 2009), 544-45.

Review of Frédéric Bozo, Marie-Pierre Rey, N. Piers Ludlow, and Leopoldo Nuti, eds., Europe and the End of the Cold War: A Reappraisal in Cold War History 9 (May 2009), 291-93.

Review of Hal Brands, From Berlin to Baghdad: America’s Search for Purpose in the Post-Cold War World in Diplomacy and Statecraft 20 (March 2009), 197-99.

Review of Gerd-Rainer Horn, The Spirit of ’68: Rebellion in Western Europe and North America, 1956-1976 in the Journal of Contemporary History 44 (January 2009), 158-60.

Review of Rick Perlstein, Nixonland: The Rise of a President and the Fracturing of America in The Sixties: A Journal of History, Politics, and Culture 1 (December 2008), 259-61.

“Trapped in the Cold War,” review of Melvyn P. Leffler, For the Soul of Mankind: The United States, the Soviet Union and the Cold War, in Reviews in American History 36 (September 2008), 441-48.

An earlier version of this review appeared in a special “roundtable” on the H-DIPLO electronic discussion list, <http://www.h-net.org/~diplo/roundtables/#vol9no4> (posted 22 February 2008).

“What is Policy?” response to a series of reviews of Henry Kissinger and the American Century, for a special “roundtable” on the H-DIPLO electronic discussion list, <http://www.h-net.org/~diplo/roundtables/#vol9no7> (17 April 2008).

“An Elusive Dream,” review of Samantha Power, Chasing the Flame: Sergio Vieira de Mello and the Fight to Save the World in the Chicago Tribune (12 April 2008).

“Racing Toward Armageddon,” review of Richard Rhodes, Arsenals of Folly: The Making of the Nuclear Arms Race in American Scientist 96 (January-February 2008), 64-66.

“Hearts of Darkness,” review of Robert Dallek, Nixon and Kissinger: Partners in Power (New York: HarperCollins, 2007) in the Chicago Tribune (2 June 2007). Reprinted in German translation in Aargauer Zeitung (Switzerland) 18 June 2007.

“Fashionable Strategists,” review of Bruce Kuklick, Blind Oracles: Intellectuals and War from Kennan to Kissinger, for a special “roundtable” on the H-DIPLO electronic discussion list, <http://www.h-net.org/~diplo/roundtables/#kuklick> (posted 7 September 2006).

Review of the documentary film, “Two Days in October,” produced by Robert Kenner and the American Experience/WGBH Boston, in the Journal of American History 93 (December 2006), 992-94.

Review of Deborah D. Avant, The Market for Force: The Consequences of Privatizing Security in Political Science Quarterly 121 (Fall 2006), 536-37.

“To Move or Not To Move: A Monumental Decision,” review of Liel Leibovitz, Aliya: Three Generations of American-Jewish Immigration to Israel, in Forward (3 February 2006).

“South Pacific Tensions,” review of Kim Munholland, Rock of Contention: Free French and Americans at War in New Caledonia, 1940-1945, for a special “roundtable” on the H-DIPLO electronic discussion list, <http://www.h-net.org/~diplo/> (posted 5 January 2006).

Review of Jeremy Varon, Bringing the War Home: The Weather Underground, the Red Army Faction, and Revolutionary Violence in the Sixties and Seventies in the Journal of American History 92 (June 2005), 152.

Review of John Mueller, The Remnants of War in Political Science Quarterly 120 (Summer 2005), 314-15.

Review of Frank W. Brecher, Securing American Independence: John Jay and the French Alliance, in The Historian 67 (Spring 2005), 105-06.

Review of Wilfried Loth, Overcoming the Cold War: A History of Détente, 1950-1991 in Cold War History 5 (February 2005), 125-27.

Review of Walter Russell Mead, Power, Terror, Peace and War: America's Grand Strategy in a World at Risk in the International Journal 60 (Winter 2004-2005), 302-05.

“Remembering the Emotions and Images of 1968,” review of Mark Kurlansky, 1968: The Year That Rocked the World for the H-1960s electronic discussion list, <http://www.h-net.org/~h-1960s> (posted 13 October 2004).

“Pathologies of Nuclear State and Society,” review of Lawrence S. Wittner, History of the World Nuclear Disarmament Movement, 3 volumes, for a special “roundtable” on the H-PEACE electronic discussion list, <http://www.h-net.org/~peace> (posted 14 May 2004).

Review of Matthew Connelly, A Diplomatic Revolution: Algeria's Fight for Independence and the Origins of the Post-Cold War Era, in Intelligence and National Security 18 (Winter 2003), 224-26.

Review of Irwin M. Wall, France, the United States, and the Algerian War, in Intelligence and National Security 17 (Summer 2002), 159-61.

Review of Samuel Baron, Bloody Saturday in the Soviet Union, in Nationalities Papers 30 (June 2002), 314-16.

Op-Ed Articles:

Weekly blogging on contemporary politics and foreign policy, www.globalbrief.ca

“Where are the Kissingers for the 21st Century,” Toronto Globe and Mail (28 February 2010).

“Bürger rissen Mauer nieder – nicht Politiker,” Aargauer Zeitung (Zurich, Switzerland), 6 November 2009.

“A Chance for Bush to Salvage his Foreign Policy,” Boston Globe (24 July 2007). Published as “A ‘China Opening’ to Iran?” International Herald Tribune (24 July 2007). Published as “A ‘China Opening’ to Iran?” Tehran Times (25 July 2007). Published as “Henry Kissinger’s Lessons for George W. Bush,” History News Network, <http://hnn.us/articles/41224.html> (30 July 2007). Published in abridged form as “How Bush Can Salvage His Foreign Policy,” Wisconsin State Journal (21 July 2007).

“The Real History of the Korean War,” Chosun Ilbo (18 October 2005), published in Korean translation. Reprinted in English in The Seoul Times (20 October 2005).

“New Age of Exploration,” Washington Times (5 March 2004).

“‘New Frontiers’ and the Tempests Along the Way,” San Francisco Chronicle (1 February 2004).

“Growing Anti-American Backlash: Is it the Revenge of the 1960s?” Wisconsin State Journal (14 October 2003).

Editorial Activities:

Founder and Editor (with Professor Sven Beckert) of Princeton University Press scholarly book series on “America in the World.”

Co-Editor, Encyclopedia of the Cold War, 2 volumes (London: Routledge, 2008), sections on ideas, concepts, and institutions; general introduction.

Editorial Board for Brill Academic Publishers (Netherlands) scholarly book series on “the History of International Relations, Diplomacy, and Intelligence.”

Editorial Board for The Sixties: A Journal of History, Politics, and Culture, published by Routledge.

Awards and Honors:

2009 Honored Distinguished Member, National Society of Collegiate Scholars, University of Wisconsin, Madison.

2009 Honored Instructor, Chadbourne Residential College, University of Wisconsin, Madison.
 2009 Honored Instructor, University Housing, University of Wisconsin, Madison.
 2008 Ken and Linda Ciriacks Faculty Outreach Excellence Award, Wisconsin Alumni Association.
 2008 Certificate of Recognition for Outstanding Service to Wisconsin Veterans, Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs.
 2007 Recognized as one of “America’s Top Young Innovators” by Smithsonian Magazine.
 2006 Class of 1955 Distinguished Teaching Award from the University of Wisconsin.
 2004 Dorothy and Hsin-Nung Yao Teaching Award from the University of Wisconsin.
 2004-2010 Organization of American Historians Distinguished Lecturer.
 2003 Phi Alpha Theta Best First Book Award.
 2001 John Addison Porter Prize for the best dissertation in the humanities, Yale University.
 2001 Hans Gatzke Prize for the best dissertation in international history, Yale University.

Courses Taught (syllabi available upon request):

History 102: American History since 1865. This is a large undergraduate lecture course that I teach at the University of Wisconsin. The course provides students with a broad understanding of social, political, economic, cultural, diplomatic, and military transformations in American society since the Civil War. The course emphasizes the development of critical skills for reading, writing, and interpretive analysis.

History 433: America and the World in the 18th and 19th Centuries. This is a large undergraduate lecture course that I teach each fall at the University of Wisconsin.

History 434: America and the World since 1900. This is a large undergraduate lecture course that I teach each spring at the University of Wisconsin.

History 600: The Sixties – Dissent and Détente in International Society. This is an advanced undergraduate reading, research, and writing seminar that I teach for history majors at the University of Wisconsin.

History 600: Empires and Foreign Intervention in the Twentieth Century. This is an advanced undergraduate reading, research, and writing seminar that I teach for history majors at the University of Wisconsin.

History 703: Comparative Imperialisms: The U.S. and Japan. This is a graduate (M.A. and Ph.D.) reading and writing seminar that I co-teach with my colleague, Louise Young, at the University of Wisconsin. The course seeks to analyze various theories of imperialism and the history of American and Japanese expansion since the late 19th century. The course aims to create a more rigorous understanding of imperialism as a historical concept, and examine its application in diverse chronological and geographical settings.

History 753: The Cold War as World Histories. This is a graduate (M.A. and Ph.D.) reading and writing seminar that I teach at the University of Wisconsin. The course seeks to internationalize the research and teaching of twentieth century history.

History 858: Afghanistan and the World: From the Great Game to the War on Terror. This is a graduate (M.A. and Ph.D.) reading and writing seminar that I co-teach (with Professor David Morgan) at the University of Wisconsin. The course combines an intensive focus on the history of Afghanistan since the eighteenth century with extensive analysis of broader changes in international relations, military affairs, and global economy. The course showcases how attention to the international history of a region can illuminate global trends and contemporary foreign policy challenges.

History 900: The Historian's Craft for U.S. Historians. This is a graduate (M.A. and Ph.D.) seminar designed to introduce first semester graduate students to the professional work of U.S. historians. The course includes readings in historiography, pedagogy, and issues of professionalization. The course also seeks to socialize graduate students into their new careers.

History 901: International History since 1815. This is a graduate (M.A. and Ph.D.) reading and writing seminar that I teach at the University of Wisconsin.

International Relations from the Renaissance to the Modern Era.

The Past and Future of the European Union.

These are undergraduate seminars that I taught in the joint University of Wisconsin-University of Michigan Overseas Study Program in Florence, Italy, Spring 2007. These courses integrated intensive reading and writing with attention to local Italian sources.

History of U.S. Grand Strategy. This is an online course offered in separate sections to undergraduate students and "special" graduate students, especially U.S. military officers. The course is a centerpiece of the Grand Strategy Program at the University of Wisconsin. The course is designed to provide students with historical background for thinking more effectively about contemporary global issues. It aims to train students – traditional and non-traditional – as global strategic thinkers. The online environment allows military officers, businesspeople, and others to participate actively in the course. See: <http://grandstrategy.wisc.edu/>.

The United States and the World: The History of American Foreign Relations since 1941. This is an online non-credit course that I have created, with the assistance of William Tishler. See: <http://www.uwalumni.com/suri>. A large international group of students participate in the course. They listen to recorded weekly lectures, read assigned materials, and communicate with the instructor and one another through online discussion and chat forums. This course is an ambitious and experimental endeavor to bring serious academic knowledge to a broad community. The course also seeks to nurture a wide-ranging and consistent intellectual discourse among diverse people.

International Strategy and Decision-Making. Two-day intensive course for Executive MBA students at the University of Wisconsin School of Business. This course introduces business executives to the modern history of international strategy and leadership. The course encourages MBA students to think more systematically about how they can formulate and implement better international strategies in business. The course interrogates the potential uses of historical analysis in business and government. The course also examines the concept of international political risk, and its potential applications by business strategists.

Turning Points in the Cold War. Co-directed with Professor Fredrik Logevall a week-long intensive summer institute for Ph.D. students in history from around the world. Co-organized and co-led discussions of key texts, research strategies, professional development, and research-in-progress with eighteen selected Ph.D. students. The institute was sponsored by the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations (SHAFR), with partnership from the Wisconsin Veterans Museum, the University of Wisconsin Center for World Affairs and the Global Economy, and the University of Wisconsin Department of History.

Faculty Development Seminar on International Governance. This is a special seminar for University of Wisconsin faculty, sponsored by the Center for the Humanities, that encourages interdisciplinary study of scholarship related to the definitions, dilemmas, and prospects of international governance in the contemporary world. I will co-direct this seminar with Professor Jonathan Zeitlin in Fall 2007.

Public Presentations:

“A Nation-Building People: A New History of U.S. Domestic and Foreign Policy since the Eighteenth Century,” presentation to the Center for International History, Department of History, Columbia University, New York, 19 February 2010.

“American Foreign Policy and the Seeds of the Contemporary Middle East Crisis,” presentation to the Des Moines Committee on Foreign Relations, Des Moines, Iowa, 28 January 2010.

“The Past and Future of U.S. Military History,” co-organized and presented at a national conference on emerging scholarship in U.S. military history, Wisconsin Veterans Museum, Madison, Wisconsin, 10-12 December 2009.

“Orphaned Diplomats: The American Struggle to Match Diplomacy with Power,” presented paper at a conference on “America and the World: Power Through its Prudent Use,” sponsored by the Tobin Project, Charlotte, North Carolina, 4 December 2009.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” invited lecture for the Center for History and Social Change, University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, Green Bay, Wisconsin, 12 November 2009.

“President Obama’s First 10 Months: A Preliminary Assessment of His Foreign Policy,” keynote lecture to a meeting of the Madison International Trade Association, Madison, Wisconsin, 10 November 2009.

“Political Activism in a Time of Diminished Resources,” invited lecture to the Global Futures Forum, Export Development Canada, Canadian Security Intelligence Service, Ottawa, Canada, 9 November 2009.

“20 Years Since the Fall of the Berlin Wall: What Have We Learned?,” lecture to the Downtown Rotary Club, Madison, Wisconsin, 4 November 2009.

“Student Activism and Political Change in Recent History,” lecture for the Undergraduate History Association, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 2 November 2009.

“Learning About Leadership From the Past, Applying Lessons for the Future,” keynote lecture for the annual reunion of Executive MBA students, Wisconsin Business School, Madison, Wisconsin, 30 October 2009.

“The Past and Future of the Wisconsin Idea: A New Grand Strategy for Leadership,” Invited Lubar Lecture, Milwaukee Art Museum, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, 27 October 2009.

“Nation-Building from Germany to Afghanistan: Learning and Unlearning Old Lessons,” invited lecture to the Madison Club, Madison, Wisconsin, 16 October 2009.

“Terror and Consent,” commentary on a scholarly panel organized by the Center for the Study of Liberal Democracy and the Global Legal Studies Center, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 16 October 2009.

“How can one write the International History of U.S. Nation-Building?” presentation at the Harvard International and Global History Seminar, co-sponsored by the Charles Warren Center for Studies in American History, Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts, 14 October 2009.

“Robert Rauschenberg: Between Art and Life in the 20th Century,” gallery lecture to accompany a special exhibition, Madison Museum of Contemporary Art, Madison, Wisconsin, 9 October 2009.

“William Appleman Williams and His Enduring Legacies,” opening lecture at a conference on “Transatlantic Culture and Social Activism from the 1960s to 2009,” sponsored by the European Union Center of Excellence and the Department of History, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 9 October 2009.

“China and the United States in the Shadow of the Global Recession,” invited lecture, China Economic Forum, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 5 October 2009.

“Nation-Building from Germany to Afghanistan: Learning and Unlearning Old Lessons,” invited lecture, Western Michigan University, Department of History, Kalamazoo, Michigan, 1 October 2009.

“The Great Iranian Revolution and its Legacies,” lecture to the International Learning Community, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 29 September 2009.

“Nation-Building from Germany to Afghanistan: Learning and Unlearning Old Lessons,” Wisconsin Veterans Museum, Madison, Wisconsin, 2 July 2009.

“Postwar Nation-Building: U.S. Policy in Germany after the Second World War and the Lessons for the Twenty-First Century,” presentation at the Legatum Prosperity Symposium, Brocket Hall, Welwyn, Hertfordshire, England, 28 June 2009.

“International Affairs and Legal History,” led a discussion with the visiting fellows at the J. Willard Hurst Summer Institute in Legal History, Institute for Legal Studies, University of Wisconsin Law School, Madison, Wisconsin, 17 June 2009.

“Reflections on Nuclear Energy and Nuclear Weapons Proliferation,” led a discussion with an interdisciplinary group of University of Wisconsin faculty, Point Beach Nuclear Power Plant, Two Rivers, Wisconsin, 21 May 2009.

“Diaspora, Hybridity, Transatlanticism, and Nation-Building,” presentation for a conference on “The Transcultural Atlantic: Constructing Communities in a Global Context,” Heidelberg Center for American Studies, University of Heidelberg, Germany, 15 May 2009.

“From ‘Hearts and Minds’ to ‘Shock and Awe:’ The United States from Vietnam to Iraq,” lecture at the Wisconsin Veterans Museum, Madison, Wisconsin, 30 April 2009.

“Transatlantic Cooperation from the Second World War to the Obama Administration,” Royal Danish Defense College, Copenhagen, Denmark, 25 April 2009.

“U.S. Foreign Policy: Lessons from the Past for the Next Decade,” Center for the Study of the Americas, Copenhagen Business School, Copenhagen, Denmark, 24 April 2009.

“Henry Kissinger and the Transformation of International Society,” University of Southern Denmark, Department of Political Science and Center for American Studies, Odense, Denmark, 23 April 2009.

“American Grand Strategy after the Cold War,” lecture to ROTC units, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 1 April 2009.

“The Past and Future of American International Leadership,” Wisconsin Academy Lecture, Madison, Wisconsin, 31 March 2009.

“The Promise and Failure of American Grand Strategy after the Cold War,” presentation at a conference on “American Grand Strategy after War,” Triangle Institute for Security Studies, Chapel Hill, North Carolina, 28 February 2009.

“The Origins of the Cold War: New Historical Perspectives,” invited lecture, Department of History, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, 26 February 2009.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” invited lecture and graduate colloquium, Department of History, Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, Illinois, 18 February 2009.

“Henry Kissinger and the Transformation of International Society,” invited lecture at the University of New England, Portland, Maine, 12 February 2009.

“A New Woodrow Wilson for the 21st Century,” lecture delivered at the Madison Literary Club, Madison, Wisconsin, 9 February 2009.

“Martin Luther King, Jr.’s Legacy for the Era of Barack Obama,” keynote lecture at the Martin Luther King, Jr. Day Community Celebration, Stevens Point, Wisconsin, 19 January 2009.

“America and the World: National Security in the New Era,” participant in a weekend-long workshop of scholars and policy-makers, sponsored by the Tobin Project, Warrenton, Virginia, 14-16 November 2008.

“Rethinking the Politics and Political History of Foreign Intervention in the Twentieth Century,” presentation in the Political History Seminar Series, Department of History, Princeton University, 13 November 2008.

“The Rise and Fall of an International Counterculture in the 1960s,” presentation at a conference, “Since 1968,” Center for 21st Century Studies, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, 25 October 2008.

“Henry Kissinger and the Geopolitics of Globalization,” presentation at a conference on “The Global 1970s,” Weatherhead Center for International Affairs, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., 10 October 2008.

“The Past and Future of American International Leadership,” Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, Arts, and Letters, Academy Evening Lecture, University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley, 7 October 2008.

“Henry Kissinger and the Transformation of International Society,” Charles Griffin Memorial Lecture, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, New York, 2 October 2008.

“The Humanities and the Future of American Society,” keynote lecture at the annual convocation of the National Society of Collegiate Scholars, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 28 September 2008.

“1968: The Revolutionary Year,” invited lecture for the Michael J. Colligan History Project, Hamilton Ohio Community Foundation, and Miami University, Hamilton, Ohio, 4 September 2008.

“Security and Prosperity: Managing the Trade-Offs,” presentation at the Legatum Prosperity Symposium, Brocket Hall, Welwyn, England, 22 June 2008.

“The Agony of Intervention: War and Peace after Empire,” invited lecture, Norwegian Nobel Institute, Oslo, Norway, 5 June 2008.

- “The Past and Future of Transatlantic Relations,” presentation at a conference on “Conflict and Community: Transatlantic Relations During the Cold War,” University of Tampere, Finland, 14 May 2008.
- “Lessons from the ‘Two Cultures’ in the Cold War,” lecture for symposium on “Bridging the ‘Two Cultures’ in the New Millennium,” Morgridge Institute for Research and the Center for the Humanities, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 3 May 2008.
- “Henry Kissinger and the Making of American Foreign Policy,” invited lecture and discussion at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, Washington D.C., 28 April 2008.
- “Henry Kissinger and the Seeds of the Contemporary Middle East Crisis,” invited lecture for the Middle East Studies Program and the Department of History, University of Arkansas at Little Rock, 25 April 2008.
- “Melvin Laird in War, Peace, and Politics,” moderator and discussant for a panel discussion at the Wisconsin Veterans Museum, Madison, Wisconsin, 22 April 2008.
- “The Rise and Fall of an International Counterculture in the 1960s,” presentation at “Global 1968” conference, Colgate University, Hamilton, New York, 18 April 2008.
- “Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” presentation for the Madison Public Library Foundation Donor Dinner, Madison, Wisconsin, 10 April 2008.
- “The Humanities and the Future of American Society,” lecture at the annual Phi Beta Kappa dinner, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 5 April 2008.
- “Nuclear Weapons and the Escalation of Global Conflict since 1945,” presentation for the “Governing America in a Global Era” program, Miller Center of Public Affairs, University of Virginia, Charlottesville, 4 April 2008.
- “Henry Kissinger and American Foreign Policy in the Middle East since 1967,” lecture to faculty and students at Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, 2 April 2008.
- “Henry Kissinger and American Leadership,” public lecture at Farmington Public Library, Farmington, Connecticut, 29 March 2008.
- “1968 as Global Beginning,” presentation for plenary session of the annual meeting of the Organization of American Historians, New York City, 28 March 2008.
- “Biography and Foreign Policy,” public discussion with Dr. Henry Kissinger, New York Historical Society, New York City, 24 March 2008.
- “New Directions in Transatlantic History, Politics, Culture, and Society,” organized and presented at two-day international workshop sponsored by the University of Wisconsin European Union Center for Excellence, Madison, Wisconsin, 13-14 March 2008.
- “Jews and Power,” led discussion with Professor Anthony Michels for University of Wisconsin Center for Jewish Studies faculty, Madison, 11 March 2008.

“Leadership in Times of Crisis: A Profile of Henry Kissinger,” lecture at the Accenture Leadership Center, University of Wisconsin School of Business, Madison, 5 February 2008.

“Henry Kissinger and the Jewish-American Century,” presentation to the congregation at Temple Beth El, Madison, Wisconsin, 3 February 2008.

“Henry Kissinger and the Seeds of the Contemporary Middle East Crisis,” presentation to the Madison Committee on Foreign Relations, Madison, Wisconsin, 23 January 2008.

“Henry Kissinger, World Order, and the Nation-State,” presentation to the Center for European Studies and the Department of History, Stanford University, Stanford, California, 15 January 2008.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” lecture for the “World Beyond Our Borders” lecture series, sponsored by the University of Wisconsin Division of International Studies, Border’s Bookstore West, Madison, Wisconsin, 6 December 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” lecture for the Congregation Sukkat Shalom Community Discussion series, Wilmette, Illinois, 2 December 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and American Leadership,” presentation to a group of Chicago Businesspeople, Chicago Mid-Day Club, 27 November 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” lecture sponsored by the U.S. Embassy in Beijing for students and faculty at Renmin University, Beijing, China, 23 November 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” lecture sponsored by the U.S. Embassy in Beijing for students and faculty at Beijing Foreign Studies University, Beijing, China, 23 November 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and the Future of American Politics,” lecture for American Democrats Abroad, Beijing Chapter, Beijing, China, 23 November 2007.

“Détente and its Discontents: Kissinger, His Critics, and Their Legacies for the Twenty-First Century,” presentation at an international conference on “The Making of U.S. Grand Strategy: The End of the Cold War and Its Legacies,” School of International Studies, Peking University, Beijing, China, 21 November 2007.

“Building Public Community in the Humanities,” presentation in the University of Wisconsin Center for the Humanities Workshop on “Entrepreneurialism in the Humanities,” Madison, Wisconsin, 14 November 2007.

“Germany, the European Union, and Transatlantic Relations since 1968,” lecture at an international symposium on “Imagining Europe: Turning Points in the Evolution of a Continent,” Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee, 3 November 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and his Legacies for Contemporary U.S. Foreign Policy,” lecture to the Policy Planning Staff, U.S. Department of State, Washington DC, 23 October 2007.

“Soviet-American Diplomacy in the 1970s: Insights from the Newly Released Records of Henry Kissinger and Anatoly Dobrynin,” presentation to a conference on “U.S.-Soviet Relations in the Era of Détente,” U.S. Department of State, Washington DC, 22 October 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and Cold War Cosmopolitanism,” presentation at an international conference on “Cultures of Democracy? Germany and the USA at Home and Abroad,” Center for German and European Studies, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 19 October 2007.

“1968 and its Aftermath for Eastern Europe and the Cold War,” invited public lecture at the Havighurst Center for Russian and Post-Soviet Studies, Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, 8 October 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” invited public lecture at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia, 12 September 2007.

“The Origins and Consequences of the ‘Global Disruption’ of 1968,” lecture to students at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia, 12 September 2007.

“Making Sense of Henry Kissinger and his Historical Legacy,” presentation at the annual meeting of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations, Chantilly, Virginia, 23 June 2007.

“The Past and Future of the Transatlantic Political Community,” lecture to the history and political science faculties at the University of Pavia, Italy, 16 May 2007.

“Ideas and Interests in American Foreign Policy since 1898,” lecture at the Heidelberg Center for American Studies, University of Heidelberg, Germany, 20 April 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” lecture to the history and international relations faculties at the University of Florence, Italy, 17 April 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and Transatlantic Relations,” public lecture sponsored by the Fondazione Europa Civiltà, Milan, Italy, 3 April 2007.

“Writing the International History of the 1960s and 1970s,” lecture to the history, political science, and international studies faculties at the University of Rome III, Italy, 13 February 2007.

“New Directions in the History of the Cold War,” lecture to the faculty and students in the political science department, University of Urbino, Italy, 9 February 2007.

"Internationalizing the Study and Teaching of History: How is it Changing our Work?" presentation in the "Evolving Directions in Academic Research and Resources" lecture series, sponsored by the University of Wisconsin libraries and the libraries' Area Studies, Social Studies, and Humanities Interdisciplinary Group (ASHIND), 15 December 2006.

“The American Grand Strategy in the 1970s” presentation to a conference on U.S. Foreign Relations in the 1970s, Mershon Center for International Security Studies, Ohio State University, 1 December 2006.

“Globalizing Political History,” organized a day-long workshop for faculty and graduate students from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and the University of Chicago to investigate the expanded geographical and conceptual range of new research in political history, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 17 November 2006.

“Reflections on the ‘U.S. Imperial State’ and the History of Empire,” presentation for the concluding session of an international conference on “Transitions and Transformations in the U.S. Imperial State: The Search for a New Synthesis,” University of Wisconsin, Madison, 11 November 2006.

“The Global Revolutions of 1968,” keynote lecture at an international conference, “1968: Global Resistance and Local Knowledge,” Drew University, Madison, New Jersey, 3 November 2006.

“Dissent and Détente in the Vietnam Era,” invited lecture sponsored by the U.S. Studies Group, College of New Jersey, Trenton, New Jersey, 2 November 2006.

“Culture, Memory, and the Vietnam War,” chair and commentator for a panel at the annual Great Lakes History Conference, Grand Valley State University, Grand Rapids, Michigan, 21 October 2006.

“Nuclear Security in Northeast Asia,” organized and chaired a day-long conference of international scholars on the history and legacies of Cold War conflict around the Korean peninsula, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 13 October 2006.

“Global Biological Threats: Economic and Social Consequences,” chaired and moderated a panel at the Wisconsin Biotechnology and Medical Device Association Conference, Waukesha, WI, 12 October 2006.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” lecture at the annual dinner for the Harvey Goldberg Classroom of the Brecht Forum for progressive social change, New York City, 6 October 2006.

“The History of Nuclear Proliferation and its Relevance for Today,” testimony to the Wisconsin Legislative Council, Special Committee on Nuclear Power (Representative Phil Montgomery, Chair), 29 September 2006.

“How to Present a Scholarly Paper or Lecture,” presentation to a history department graduate student workshop, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 27 September 2006.

“The Cold War and Countercultural Rebellions,” presentation at a conference on the history of the Cold War, co-sponsored by the Lyndon Baines Johnson Presidential Library and Cambridge University Press, Austin, Texas, 14 September 2006.

“Rethinking Security and Democracy since 11 September 2001,” lecture for a university-wide forum to commemorate the fifth anniversary of the 11 September 2001 terrorist attacks, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 11 September 2006.

“The Origins of American Diplomacy: Early Ideas and Interests,” lecture to the New Student Orientation for disadvantaged students, organized through the Academic Advancement Program, Letters and Sciences Student Academic Affairs, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 28 August 2006.

“Doing International History Across the Scholarly Generations,” presentation for the plenary session at the annual meeting of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations, University of Kansas, Lawrence, 25 June 2006.

“Henry Kissinger and the Transformation of International Society,” keynote lecture at symposium on international history, Temple University, 2 June 2006.

“The Bush Doctrine and the History of American Wars Against Non-State Adversaries,” presentation for the plenary session at the annual meeting of the Policy History Conference, Charlottesville, Virginia, 1 June 2006.

- “Anti-War Protests in the Vietnam Era and Beyond,” presentation for “University on the Air,” Wisconsin Public Radio, 7 May 2006.
- “The Cold War University and the Policy Jew,” presentation at symposium on “The State of War: Modern American Politics and State-Building,” University of Chicago, 21 April 2006.
- “Henry Kissinger and the Transformation of International Society,” Center for the Humanities, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 7 April 2006.
- “Henry Kissinger and the Roots of Transatlanticism in Identity and Realpolitik during the Second World War,” presentation at the annual meeting of the International Studies Association, San Diego, California, 25 March 2006.
- “The Cold War in Eastern Europe,” guest lecture in Slavic 254: “Eastern Europe, An Interdisciplinary Survey,” University of Wisconsin, Madison, 6 March 2006.
- “New Directions in International History,” chaired and organized presidential session at the American Historical Association annual meeting, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, 6 January 2006.
- “New Directions in the Writing and Teaching of International History,” presentation to the World History Study Group and the George L. Mosse Program in History, Hebrew University, Jerusalem, Israel, 22 December 2005.
- “Détente, International Order, and Human Rights in the 1970s,” presentation at international conference on “New Perspectives on Détente,” Hebrew University, Jerusalem, Israel, 20 December 2005.
- “Pearl Harbor and September 11: Historical Parallels and Divergences,” presentation to the Waunakee Rotary Club, Waunakee, Wisconsin, 10 November 2005.
- “Henry Kissinger and the Transatlantic Dimensions of the 20th Century,” invited lecture in the History Department and the Lyndon Baines Johnson School of Public Affairs, University of Texas at Austin, 10 October 2005.
- “American Freedom and American Foreign Policy,” invited lecture to mark the twentieth anniversary of the Center for History and Social Change, University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, 23 September 2005.
- “Henry Kissinger and the Reconceptualization of European Security, 1969-1975,” presentation at an international conference on “The Roots of the European Security System: Thirty Years Since the Helsinki Final Act,” Center for Security Studies, Swiss Federal Institute of Technology, Zurich, Switzerland, 8 September 2005.
- “Sixty Years since the Atomic Bombings at Hiroshima and Nagasaki: Historical Reflections and Contemporary Legacies,” presentation for “University on the Air,” Wisconsin Public Radio, broadcast 14 August 2005.
- “Harry Truman, Henry Stimson, and the Decision to Drop Two Atomic Bombs on Japan: History, Legacies, and Lessons,” presentation to the Downtown Rotary Club, Madison, Wisconsin, 10 August 2005.
- “Technology and 20th Century Diplomacy,” presentation at the annual meeting of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations, University of Maryland, College Park, 25 June 2005.

“Nuclear Security in the Cold War and Beyond,” presentation for “University on the Air” (with Professor Clark Miller), Wisconsin Public Radio, broadcast 29 May 2005.

“The Cultural Contradictions of the Cold War and the West German State Response,” presentation at the conference on “The ‘Other’ Alliance: Political Protest, Intercultural Relations, and Collective Identities in West Germany and the United States, 1958-1977,” Internationales Wissenschaftsforum, University of Heidelberg, Germany, 21 May 2005.

“Thinking Historically about the ‘War on Terror,’” lecture to the Phi Alpha Theta History Honor Society and the Undergraduate History Association, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin, 26 April 2005.

“Henry Kissinger, Democracy, and Diplomacy in the Twentieth Century,” invited lecture at the George H.W. Bush School of Government and Public Service, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas, 20 April 2005.

“Nuclear Issues in an Age of Globalization,” organized and moderated a university-wide panel on this topic, Memorial Union South, University of Wisconsin, 11 April 2005.

“China, the Soviet Union, and the Vietnam War: New Insights on the Vietnam War from the ‘Other Side,’” invited lecture at the Wisconsin Veterans Museum, Madison, Wisconsin, 31 March 2005.

“New Directions in International History: Power and Protest in the 1960s,” invited lecture at Southwestern University, Georgetown, Texas, 18 November 2004.

“The Cold War as International History: Social Movements and State Power in the 1960s,” presentation to the University of Connecticut Foreign Policy Seminar, Storrs, Connecticut, 5 November 2004.

“Publishing Workshop,” co-organized with Susan Ferber (Senior Editor, Oxford University Press), department of history, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 30 September 2004.

“Security and the Global Environment: New Directions in Scholarship,” Presentation to the Sustainability and the Global Environment (SAGE) Seminar, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 22 September 2004.

“9/11 Three Years Later: What Have We Learned? What is the Role of the University?” organized and moderated a university-wide panel on this topic, Memorial Union, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 13 September 2004.

“The Domestic Resilience of NATO in the 1960s: A Community of Shared Values Amidst Public Discord,” presentation at an international conference on “NATO in the 1960s,” Center for Security Studies, Swiss Federal Institute of Technology, Zurich, Switzerland, 26 August 2004.

“The History of American relations with the Middle East,” presentation for “University on the Air,” Wisconsin Public Radio, broadcast 11 July 2004.

“‘Soft Power’ during the Nixon and Kissinger Years,” presentation at the annual meeting of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations, University of Texas, Austin, 26 June 2004.

“Did the Sixties Matter?” presentation to a University of Wisconsin Alumni Association workshop, Washington D.C., 24 June 2004.

- “International History and Public Policy – Why the Disconnect?” presentation at a University of Texas conference on “The University and International Relations in the 21st Century,” Austin, Texas, 23 June 2004.
- “Human Rights and American Identity,” presentation to Wisconsin high school teachers participating in the History Teaching Alliance Summer Institute, University of Wisconsin-Marathon County, 21 June 2004.
- “The Cold War in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe,” Center for Russian, East European, and Eurasian Studies, Stanford University, 28 May 2004.
- “Henry Kissinger and the Transformation of International Society,” Department of History, Stanford University, 20 May 2004.
- “Global Revolution and Cold War Politics,” Center for History and Social Change, University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, 23 April 2004.
- “Writing the International History of the 1960s,” Contemporary History Institute, Ohio University, 15 April 2004.
- “The Cold War as International History: Social Movements and State Power in the 1960s,” Mershon Center Workshop in International History, Department of History, Ohio State University, 14 April 2004.
- “Henry Kissinger and American Conservatives,” National Fellows Seminar, Hoover Institution, Stanford University, 7 April 2004.
- “The Historical Origins and Implications of Contemporary American Hegemony,” presentation at the annual meeting of the American Philosophical Association – Pacific Branch, Pasadena, California, 25 March 2004.
- “1968 and the Fate of the Soviet Empire,” presentation to a workshop on the history of the Soviet Union in the 1960s, Department of History, Stanford University, 20 February 2004.
- “Explaining Simultaneous Change in Diverse Societies: The Global Disruption of the 1960s on Three Continents,” presentation to the Social Science History Institute Comparative Politics Workshop, Stanford University, 12 January 2004.
- “The New Cold War History of the 1960s and Détente,” presentation at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, Washington DC, 13 November 2003.
- “Writing the International History of the 1960s,” presentation at the Center for International Security and Cooperation, Stanford University, 30 October 2003.
- “Money, Power, and the American Empire in the Late 19th and Early 20th Centuries,” presentation to Wisconsin high school teachers participating in the History Teaching Alliance Summer Institute, University of Wisconsin-Marathon County, 20 June 2003.
- “The Korean War and its Effects on American Society: A 50 Year Perspective,” presentation at the Wisconsin Veterans Museum, Madison, Wisconsin, 12 June 2003.
- “Lyndon Johnson and the Global Disruption of 1968,” presentation at the annual meeting of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations, George Washington University, Washington D.C., 7 June 2003.

- “Globalizing American History” co-directed with Professor John Milton Cooper, Jr. a series of nine monthly seminars with Madison, Wisconsin high school teachers, September 2002 to June 2003.
- “Themes in the History of American Foreign Relations,” presentation to 250 Madison-area advanced placement high school history students, 29 April 2003.
- “The Cultural Contradictions of Cold War Education: The Case of West Berlin,” presentation at conference, “Lives and Consequences: The Local Impact of the Cold War,” Yale University, 25 April 2003.
- “The Historical Context for the Contemporary War in Iraq and its Aftermath,” presentation to the International Learning Community, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 17 April 2003.
- “Religion and Foreign Policy in the Modern World,” presentation to 300 students at West High School, Madison, Wisconsin, 28 March 2003.
- “Diplomacy and Mass Society: New Directions in International History since 1945,” invited lecture at Oxford University, England, 4 February 2003.
- “Internationalism, Travel, and Study: American Encounters with Europe in the 19th and 20th Centuries,” chaired and commented on panel at the American Historical Association annual meeting, Chicago, 5 January 2003.
- “Historical Analogies and September 11,” presentation to a university-wide forum commemorating the anniversary of 11 September 2001, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 10 September 2002.
- “Legacies of Partition: India, Pakistan, and the Kashmir Crisis,” presentation to Wisconsin high school teachers participating in the Global Studies Summer Institute, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, 7 August 2002.
- “Nuclear Weapons and the Cold War,” presentation to the University of Wisconsin Department of Physics, 2 July 2002.
- “Re-defining the Boundaries of the Cold War,” presentation at the annual meeting of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations, University of Georgia, Athens, 23 June 2002.
- “Teaching the history and historiography of the Cold War,” presentation to Wisconsin high school teachers participating in the History Teaching Alliance Summer Institute, University of Wisconsin-Marathon County, 10 June 2002.
- “Nixon, Kissinger, and the Secret Nuclear Crisis of 1969,” with Scott D. Sagan, presentation at the Center for International Security and Cooperation, Stanford University, 6 June 2002.
- “U.S. Politics and Diplomacy, 1810-1860,” presentation to Madison-area advanced placement high school history students, 19 April 2002.
- “The Secret Nuclear Crisis of 1969: Rethinking the History and Legacy of the Cold War,” presentation at Yale University, International Security Studies, 11 January 2002.
- “The War in Afghanistan: What’s Next?” presentation on Wisconsin Public Television, 7 December 2001.

“Military Responses to Terrorism,” forum sponsored by the Middleton High School Model United Nations, Middleton, Wisconsin, 29 November 2001.

“Explaining the Cold War,” presentation for “University on the Air,” Wisconsin Public Radio, November-December 2001.

“Five Myths About the Present War against Terrorism,” presentation to the staff of the Athletic Department, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 2 November 2001.

“From Southeast to Central Asia: Air Power, Covert Operations, and the Conduct of American Foreign Policy,” forum sponsored by the Centers for Southeast Asian and South Asian Studies, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 15 October 2001.

“Lessons from the Soviet Experience in Afghanistan for Contemporary American Foreign Policy,” presentation on Wisconsin Public Television, 12 October 2001.

“The Taliban, the Northern Alliance, and the Great Powers in Central Asia,” panel discussion on Wisconsin Public Television, 5 October 2001.

“Publishing Historical Monographs,” presentation for graduate students in conjunction with Kathleen McDermott (senior editor, Harvard University Press), History Department, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 20 September 2001.

“Open Forum on the Recent Terrorist Incidents,” History Department, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 14 September 2001.

“Twentieth Century Diplomacy,” presentation to Madison-area advanced placement high school students, Madison, WI, April 2001.

“Writing an International History of Diplomacy and Social Protest in the 1960s: The Case of Henry Kissinger,” Charles Warren Center for the Study of American History, Harvard University, March 2001.

“The Diplomacy and Domestic Politics of Détente: An International History,” Stanford University, International History Seminar, February 2001.

“What is Peace? How do we make it? ‘Lessons’ from the 1960s,” Center for International Security and Cooperation, Stanford University, February 2001.

“The Foreign Policy of ‘Developed Socialism,’ 1964-72,” annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies, Denver, Colorado, November 2000.

“International Relations Meets Social History: Popular Protests and Political Détente among the Great Powers, 1958-1972,” Center for International Security and Cooperation, Stanford University, October 1999.

“Nuclear Weapons and Social Protests, 1957-1974,” annual meeting of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations, Princeton University, June 1999.

“The Social History of Great Power Diplomacy in the 1960s,” Center for Conflict Research, University of Zurich, Switzerland, May 1999.

“Social Criticism and Public Policy Change: The Case of Henry Kissinger,” Bradley Conference on New Directions in Historical Research, Yale University, February 1999.

“Radio, Reform, and Reaction: The Failures of Soviet and American Policy during the Prague Spring, 1968-9,” annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies, Boca Raton, Florida, September 1998.

“Détente and the Crisis of Confidence in Central Europe, 1964-9,” annual meeting of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations, University of Maryland, College Park, June 1998.

“The Soviet Union, the Prague Spring, and Cold War Crises in Eastern Europe,” annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies, Seattle, Washington, November 1997.

“The Struggle for Solvency: From Cold War to Détente to Bankruptcy,” annual meeting of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations, Georgetown University, June 1997.

History Department Service:

Chair, Faculty Search Committee for the Ambrose-Hesseltine Chair in U.S. Military History, 2008-09.

Chair, U.S. Faculty Group, 2005-09.

U.S. Graduate Admissions Committee, 2008-09.

Faculty Council, 2006-08.

Chair, Search Committee for a Faculty Hire in International History and Southeast Asian History, 2008.

Chair, U.S. Graduate Admissions Committee, 2005-06.

Graduate Council, 2004-06.

Joint Committee on Teaching, 2004-06.

Post-1945 U.S. History Faculty Search Committee, 2004-05.

Co-Chair of History Department Committee designated to plan seminars and a conference for “Internationalizing the Study of History,” 2002-06.

Harvey Goldberg Center Committee, 2002-05.

Committee on Diversity and Climate, 2002-03.

Committee on Revising the Graduate Program in U.S. History, 2002-03.

Representative to the University Faculty Senate, 2001-03, 2004-05.

Undergraduate Council, 2001-03.

Faculty Advisor to the University of Wisconsin Undergraduate History Organization (UWHO) and Phi Alpha Theta (PAT), 2001-03.

Computer Committee, 2001-03.

Afro-American Studies Bridge Committee, 2001-02.

Committee for a “Multiracial Americas” course track, 2001-02.

University Service:

Director, European Union Center of Excellence, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 2008-11.

Co-Chair, University of Wisconsin Global Health Initiative, Office of the Provost, 2010-11.

Curriculum Committee, College of Letters and Science, 2008-10.

Faculty Fellow, Bradley Residential Learning Community, 2007-09.

Athletic Board, 2005-08.

Academic Affairs Subcommittee, 2005-08.

Equity, Diversity, and Student Welfare Subcommittee, 2005-08.

Personnel Subcommittee, 2005-08.

Co-Chair of “Global Agenda” Committee for Campus Reaccreditation and Strategic Planning Process, 2007-08.
 Academic Planning Council, College of Letters and Science, 2007-08.
 Director, Global Security Program, Division of International Studies, 2006-08.
 Faculty-in-residence, University of Wisconsin Academic Program in Florence, Italy, 2007.
 Fulbright Scholarship Evaluation Committee, Division of International Studies, 2006-07.
 Division of International Studies Interdisciplinary Faculty Search Committee in Global Biological Threats, 2005-07.
 Faculty Appeals Committee, College of Letters and Science, 2005-09.
 Faculty Fellow, International Learning Residential Community, 2005-06.
 Division of International Studies Faculty Advisory Board for “Here on Earth,”
 Wisconsin Public Radio show, 2005-07.
 Co-Organizer with Dean Gilles Bousquet (International Studies) of campus-wide
 New Global Security Program 2004-06.
 Faculty Steering Committee, Division of International Studies
 Washington D.C. Semester in International Affairs Program, 2004-09.
 University Faculty Professional Development Grant Review Committee, 2004-05.

External Professional Committees:

Wisconsin Veterans Museum Search Committee for a New Museum Director, 2010.
 National Endowment for the Humanities, Fellowship Evaluation Committee, 2007.
 Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations, Governing Council, 2007-09.
 Membership Subcommittee, 2007-09.
 Organization of American Historians, Committee on Research and Access to Historical Documentation, 2006-10.
 American Historical Association, George Louis Beer Prize Committee, 2005-07.

Professional Outreach Activities:

“The Past and Future of U.S.-European Relations,” presentation to the University of Wisconsin Air Force
 ROTC, Madison, Wisconsin, 10 February 2010.

“The Middle East, the United States, and the United Nations,” presentation for the United Nations Association,
 Madison Chapter, Madison, Wisconsin, 9 February 2010.

“In Defense of Liberal Education,” keynote address, Academic Recognition Ceremony, McFarland High School,
 McFarland, Wisconsin, 30 November 2009.

“Henry Kissinger and Contemporary American Foreign Policy,” invited lecture and community discussion,
 Karl Junginger Memorial Library, Waterloo, Wisconsin, 18 November 2009.

“The Universal Declaration of Human Rights: Controversies and Legacies,” invited lecture as part of “Human Rights Week,” Middleton High School, Middleton, Wisconsin, 3 November 2009.

“American Freedom in Peace and War, 1919-1941,” lectured and led a discussion with teachers from Wisconsin as part of a co-sponsored U.S. Department of Education Teaching American History and Wisconsin Academy for the Study of American History workshop, Oshkosh, Wisconsin, 8 October 2009.

“Cold War Internationalism,” lectured and led discussions with teachers from Iowa as part of a co-sponsored U.S. Department of Education Teaching American History and Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History workshop, Des Moines, Iowa, 25 August 2009.

“American Foreign Policy in the Cold War and Post-Cold War Worlds,” lectured and led discussions with teachers from New York State as part of a U.S. Department of Education Teaching American History Grant, directed by the Jamestown Public Schools, Horseheads, New York, 9-10 July 2009.

“Life During Wartime,” co-organized and co-directed a week-long summer institute with Wisconsin history and social studies teachers, sponsored through a U.S. Department of Education Teaching American History Grant, Wisconsin Veterans Museum, Madison, Wisconsin, 22-26 June 2009. Collaborating partners included the Madison Metropolitan School District, Wisconsin Cooperative Educational Service Agency 5, the Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs, the Madison Area Technical College, the University of Wisconsin School of Education, and the University of Wisconsin College of Letters and Science.

“The History of the Cold War,” lectured and led discussions with teachers from the Deer Valley Unified School District as part of a co-sponsored U.S. Department of Education Teaching American History and Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History workshop, Phoenix, Arizona, 27-29 May 2009.

“Henry Kissinger and the Future of American Foreign Policy,” lecture at the Wisconsin Alumni Association Founder’s Day Dinner, Cincinnati, Ohio, 11 May 2009.

“The Past and Future of American Foreign Policy,” lecture at the Wisconsin Alumni Association Founder’s Day Dinner, Kansas City, Missouri, 1 May 2009.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” lecture at the Wisconsin Alumni Association Founder’s Day Dinner, Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, 29 April 2009.

“From the Vietnam War to the Iraq War,” presentation for East High School students, Madison, Wisconsin, 29 April 2009.

“Contemporary Politics and the Lessons of the Cold War Era,” lecture and discussion with the Madison Metropolitan Women’s Club, Madison, Wisconsin, 20 April 2009.

“The Afghanistan-Pakistan War,” lecture and discussion with the Madison Institute, Madison, Wisconsin, 28 March 2009.

“The Future of U.S.-European Relations in the Shadow of the Iraq War,” lecture for Wisconsin Alumni Learning Series, Brown County Library, Green Bay, Wisconsin, 25 March 2009.

“Henry Kissinger and the Making of Foreign Policy,” keynote lecture at the Wisconsin Council for the Social Studies and International Education Conference, Madison, Wisconsin, 17 March 2009.

“History and Foreign Policy: 5 Concepts Every Student Needs to Know,” led break-out session for twenty-five teachers at the Wisconsin Council for the Social Studies and International Education Conference, Madison, Wisconsin, 17 March 2009.

“The Past and Future of Foreign Interventions,” lecture at the Rotary Club West, Madison, Wisconsin, 5 March 2009.

“American Foreign Policy after Henry Kissinger,” lecture and discussion at Temple Beth El Sunday Morning Lecture Series, Madison, Wisconsin, 1 February 2009.

“What Should We Expect After the 2008 Elections,” keynote address to a day-long meeting of the Madison International Trade Association, Madison, Wisconsin, 11 November 2008.

“The Future of U.S.-European Relations in the Shadow of the Iraq War,” lecture in the “Global Hot Spots” series, Wisconsin Alumni Association, Madison, Wisconsin, 7 November 2008.

“The 2008 Election as a Possible Political Realignment: Historical Perspectives,” presentation as part of a public panel organized by the Center for the Humanities, University of Wisconsin-Madison, Madison Public Library, Central Branch, Madison, Wisconsin, 29 October 2008.

“U.S. Foreign Policy and the 2008 Elections,” presentation to students at West High School, Madison, Wisconsin, 23 October 2008.

“U.S. Foreign Policy and the 2008 Elections,” presentation to students at East High School, Madison, Wisconsin, 22 October 2008.

“The Future of U.S. Foreign Policy in the Middle East,” presentation and participation in panel discussion with local community, Madison, Wisconsin, 13 October 2008.

“Henry Kissinger and the Seeds of the Contemporary Middle East Crisis,” lecture to the Madison Kiwanis Club, Madison, Wisconsin, 25 August 2008.

“The Past and Future of American Foreign Policy,” lecture to the Senior Summer School, Madison, Wisconsin, 5 August 2008.

“Henry Kissinger and American Leadership,” lecture for the Wisconsin Alumni Association Chicago Chapter Founder’s Day Dinner, Chicago, Illinois, 1 May 2008.

Organized day-long workshop for 120 Advanced Placement high school history students in Madison-area schools, Wisconsin Historical Society, 22 April 2008.

Reading from Henry Kissinger and the American Century for the Literacy Network of Dane County, “Literacy 24/7” public event, Borders West Bookstore, Madison, Wisconsin, 12 April 2008.

“The Diplomacy of U.S. Trade with China,” presentation to University of Wisconsin student group, “China Economic Forum,” 12 March 2008.

“Henry Kissinger and American Foreign Policy from the Second World War to the Present,” day-long workshop with local teachers, History Teaching Alliance, University of Wisconsin-Marathon County, 7 March 2008.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” lecture for senior lunch program, Jewish Social Services, Beth Israel Center, Madison, Wisconsin, 11 February 2008.

“Henry Kissinger and American Leadership,” lecture for an audience of University of Wisconsin alumni, sponsored by the Wisconsin Alumni Association, Los Angeles, California, 17 January 2008.

“Henry Kissinger and American Leadership,” lecture for an audience of University of Wisconsin alumni, sponsored by the Wisconsin Alumni Association, San Francisco, California, 15 January 2008.

“American Foreign Policy in the Middle East since 1967,” lecture for students at East High School, Madison, Wisconsin, 13 December 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and the Study of American History,” lecture for the Social Science Teacher Education Program, Madison, Wisconsin, 12 December 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” lecture for the Attic Angel Association, Continuing Education Program,” Madison, Wisconsin, 3 December 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and American Foreign Policy Toward Israel Since 1967,” lecture for the Milwaukee Jewish Federation, Women’s Political Awareness Group, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, 13 November 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” lecture for the Wisconsin Alumni Association “Fall Day on Campus,” Madison, Wisconsin, 9 November 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” lecture at a luncheon for the University of Wisconsin Bascom Hill Society of Alumni Donors, Madison, Wisconsin, 6 November 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” lecture to the University of Wisconsin Retirement Association, Madison, Wisconsin, 5 November 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” lecture for the Wisconsin Book Festival and the Wisconsin Veterans Museum, Madison, Wisconsin, 10 October 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” lecture at the Madison Public Library, Sequoia Branch, Wisconsin, 18 September 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and the American Century,” lecture to the Downtown Rotary Club, Madison, Wisconsin, 8 August 2007.

“American Society and International Society, 1898-1945,” organized and co-directed with Professor Jean Edward Smith of Marshall University, a week-long summer institute for nation-wide high school teachers, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education’s Teaching American History Grant Program, Ashland, Ohio, 22 July to 27 July 2007.

“Henry Kissinger and American Foreign Policy Toward Israel Since 1967,” lecture to the Greenfield Summer Institute in Jewish Studies, University of Wisconsin, 11 July 2007.

“Freedom, Democracy, and U.S. Foreign Policy since 1914,” lecture to the Northeast Wisconsin Teachers Academy for the Study of American History, University of Wisconsin, Oshkosh, 25 June 2007.

“Conversations with Henry Kissinger,” lecture and discussion for University of Wisconsin alumni and friends, sponsored by the Wisconsin Alumni Association Italy Chapter, Urbino, Italy, 10 February 2007.

“America during the Cold War,” organized and co-directed with Professor Alonzo Hamby of Ohio University, a week-long summer institute for nation-wide high school teachers, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education’s Teaching American History Grant Program, Ashland, Ohio, 23 July to 28 July 2006.

“Constitutional Debates during the Cold War,” presentation to the Teaching American History workshop for New York state history teachers, Jamestown Community College, Olean, New York, 18 July 2006.

“Détente, International Order, and Human Rights in the 1970s,” lecture for high school teachers attending a summer workshop on “the Causes and Consequences of the Cold War,” Harry S. Truman Presidential Museum and Library, Independence, Missouri, 13 July 2006.

“Remembering the Korean War,” lecture for the public premier of the new documentary on “Wisconsin Korean War Stories,” sponsored by Wisconsin Public Television and the Wisconsin Alumni Association, La Crosse, Wisconsin, 29 June 2006.

“Politics, Religion, and Resources: America’s History in the Middle East,” lecture for the University of Wisconsin-Extension “College Days” program, Madison, 7 June 2006.

“Intimate Strangers: The United States and the Middle East since 1900” lecture for high school teachers attending a teacher in-service workshop at the Wisconsin Veterans Museum, Madison, 31 March 2006.

“Wisconsin Weekend Away”, participated as a featured speaker in the University of Wisconsin Foundation retreat for distinguished university alumni, St. Augustine, Florida, 10-12 March 2006.

“The Promise of the United Nations: Reflections on the First Sixty Years of Global Governance,” lecture at the Winchester Academy for lifelong learning, Waupaca, Wisconsin, 13 February 2006.

“The ‘War on Terror’ from a Historical Perspective,” presentation at the Parents’ Weekend Dinner, University of Wisconsin Hillel, Madison, 11 November 2005.

“Teaching the 1960s as World History,” presentation to the Social Studies Teacher Education Colloquium, sponsored by the University of Wisconsin School of Education, Department of Curriculum and Instruction, Madison, 2 November 2005.

“Remembering the Vietnam War,” moderated a public discussion about memory and oral history from the Vietnam War, sponsored by the Wisconsin Book Festival and the Wisconsin Veterans Museum, 15 October 2005.

“History Through Film,” led and moderated public discussions of film and history about the 1960s for a series of workshops sponsored by Wisconsin Public Television, the American Experience Public Television Documentary Series, the Wisconsin Veterans Museum, and the George L. Mosse Program in History, 5-6 October 2005.

“The History and Memory of the Vietnam War,” led a community book discussion of Christian Appy’s Patriots: The Vietnam War Remembered from All Sides, sponsored by the Wisconsin Humanities Council in a year-long series on “A More Perfect Union: The Common Defense,” Madison Public Library, Sequoya Branch, 29 September 2005.

“Ideas and Traditions in American Foreign Relations,” organized and co-directed with Professor Warren Kimball of Rutgers University, a week-long summer institute for nation-wide high school teachers, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education’s Teaching American History Grant Program, Ashland, Ohio, 31 July to 6 August 2005.

“The Cold War: Ideas and Traditions in American Foreign Policy,” presentation to the Teaching American History Workshop for New York state history teachers, Saint Bonaventure University and Jamestown Community College, New York, 12-13 July 2005.

“New Security Challenges since 11 September 2001 and the Role of the University,” presentation at the Wisconsin Alumni Association “Day on Campus,” University of Wisconsin, Madison, 6 May 2005.

“Did the Sixties Really Matter?” presentation to University of Wisconsin alumni (with Professor Steve Stern), sponsored by the University of Wisconsin Foundation, Los Angeles, 28 April 2005.

Advanced Placement history workshop, organized and participated in day-long events for 100 visiting high school students at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and the Wisconsin Historical Society, April 2001 to April 2003, April 2005, April 2006.

“A Clash of Civilizations? Relations between Americans and Arabs in the Shadow of the War on Terrorism,” presentation to high school students as part of Middleton High School’s “Respect Week” event series, Middleton, Wisconsin, 22 February 2005.

“Teaching the History of the Vietnam War,” lecture to secondary school teachers and war veterans as part of the Wisconsin Veterans Museum in-service community workshop, Madison, Wisconsin, 21 January 2005.

“The Sixties,” co-organized with Dr. James Danky of the Wisconsin Historical Society, a series of six public film viewings and discussions on the history of the 1960s, sponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities, the American Library Association, and National Video Resources, Madison, Wisconsin, November to December 2004.

“Ideas and Traditions in American Foreign Relations,” co-organized and directed with Professor John Moser of Ashland University, a week-long summer institute for high school teachers, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education’s Teaching American History Grant Program, Ashland, Ohio, July 2004.

“Alumni University,” presented recent scholarship and led discussions (with Professors Stephen Kantrowitz, Jean Lee, and Steve Stern) for an alumni workshop on “turning points in American history,” sponsored by the University of Wisconsin Alumni Association, Washington DC, June 2004.

“Globalizing American History,” co-directed with Professor John Milton Cooper, Jr., a series of nine monthly seminars for Madison-area high school teachers, sponsored by the University of Wisconsin Center for the Humanities, September 2002 to June 2003.

History Teaching Alliance Summer Institute for Wisconsin high school teachers, presented recent scholarship and led group discussions, University of Wisconsin-Marathon County, June 2002 to June 2004.

Global Studies Summer Institute, presented recent scholarship on international relations to high school teachers, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, August 2002.

Wisconsin Idea Outreach Seminar, participated in one-week tour around Wisconsin with faculty, promoted the university among local Wisconsin communities, May 2002.

Frequent lectures to student groups, high schools, museums, and bookstores, 2001 to 2009.

Frequent appearances on public radio and television, 2001 to 2009.

Manuscript Reviewer for the Following Publishers/Journals:

Blackwell Publishers.
 Cambridge University Press.
 Harvard University Press.
 Houghton Mifflin.
 Longman Publishers.
 Oxford University Press.
 Potomac Books.
 Princeton University Press.
 Reaktion Books.
 Routledge Press.
 University of Wisconsin Press.
 Wiley Publishers.
 Wisconsin Historical Society Press.
 Yale University Press.
American Historical Review.
American Jewish History.
Journal of American History.
Diplomatic History.
International Security.
Journal of Cold War Studies.
Journal of Contemporary History.
Millennium: Journal of International Studies.

External Assessor for the Following Organizations:

Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada.

External Reviewer of Tenure Candidates for:

Bar-Ilian University, Israel.
 Colgate University.
 Drew University.
 Queen's University, Canada.
 Tufts University.
 University of California, San Diego.
 University of Virginia.
 Washington University in St. Louis.

Fellowships and Grants:

Senior Fellow, Heidelberg Center for American Studies, Heidelberg, Germany, 2010.
 Hertog Foundation Grant for the Study and Teaching of Grand Strategy, 2009-11.
 Senior Fellow, Legatum Institute, London, England, 2009.
 Visiting Research Fellowship, Nobel Institute, Oslo, Norway, 2008.
 H. I. Romnes Faculty Fellowship, University of Wisconsin, 2008-2013.
 U.S. Department of Education Teaching American History Grant for work with teachers in Wisconsin, 2008-2011.
 Andrew W. Mellon Foundation Interdisciplinary Workshop Grant, administered through the Center for the Humanities, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 2006-2008.
 Vilas Associateship, University of Wisconsin, 2005-2007.

Collaborative Research Grant, Center for World Affairs and the Global Economy (WAGE), University of Wisconsin, 2005-2008.
 Innovation and Development Grant, International Institute, University of Wisconsin, 2005.
 National Fellowship, Hoover Institution, Stanford University, 2003-2004.
 Research Travel Grant, German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD), 2004.
 Faculty Travel Grant, Center For European Studies, University of Wisconsin, 2003-2004.
 Rockefeller Archives Center Research Grant, 2004.
 Postdoctoral Fellowship, Center for International Security and Cooperation, Stanford University, 2000-2001.
 United States Institute for Peace Research Fellowship, 1999-2000.
 Jacob K. Javits United States Department of Education Doctoral Fellowship, 1994-1998.
 A. Bartlett Giamatti Yale University Graduate Fellowship, 1996-1998.
 Yale Center for International and Area Studies Dissertation Fellowship, 1998-1999.
 Smith Richardson Dissertation Fellowship in International Studies, 1998-1999.
 Friends of Princeton University Library Manuscript Research Fellowship, 1998.
 Yale International Studies Summer Travel Grant, 1997.
 Ohio University Contemporary History Institute Russia Travel Grant, 1996.
 Stanford University Undergraduate Research and Travel Grant, 1994.
 Harvard University John M. Olin Fellowship in International Studies, 1999-2000, declined by recipient.
 Fellowship in Public Affairs, Miller Center, University of Virginia, 2000-01, declined by recipient.

Languages:

French: reading and speaking fluency.
 German: advanced reading and speaking competence.
 Russian: advanced reading and speaking competence.

Professional Affiliations:

American Committees on Foreign Relations, invited lecturer.
 American Historical Association.
 Organization of American Historians.
 Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations.
 American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies.
 World History Association.
 Chicago Council on Foreign Relations.
 International Security Studies, Yale University.
 Center for International Security and Cooperation, Stanford University.
 International Institute, University of Wisconsin-Madison.
 Global Studies Program, University of Wisconsin-Madison.
 Center for Russia, East Europe, and Central Asia, University of Wisconsin-Madison.
 European Union Center of Excellence, University of Wisconsin-Madison.
 Center for European Studies, University of Wisconsin-Madison.
 Senior Fellow, Center for World Affairs and the Global Economy, University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Hobbies:

Recreational hiking, classic cinema, basketball, and tennis.